Glad attacked officials plan to sue few uncivilized recall partisans

Everyone should have the right to go to city council meetings and express concerns and questions that have to do with the well being of the community.

Unfortunately, for the past eight-plus months, that's not all that has been happening at Westland City Council meetings. I have heard some recall workers, not all, personally attack council members, the mayor, and city directors. These personal attacks have had nothing to do with city business.

Because I find some of the recall workers behavior appalling, I am glad to see that some people are trying to make them accountable for their own words and actions through legal actions. I must say that some of the recall workers have presented themselves well, and for that you should be given credit. I just wish that all of you could act in a civilized manner.

Roy Blow column cited as an embarrassing and stupid column

Your guest article from Ray Blow was the stupidest thing I ever saw.

Yes, I know it was supposed to be funny, but you crossed the line. It was embarrassing to the only two good elected officials we have. MCN owes [Westland Councilmen Glenn] Anderson and [Richard] LeBlanc an apology for their shoddy journalism.

Wasp sting nearly kills local man

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Swift action by Romulus emergency service team members saved the life of a local man stung by a wasp on Aug. 26. Annapolis Hospital authorities said.

The victim, Merlin Lemmon of Porter Street in Romulus, was home alone for about 25 minutes that day, his wife, Jan, revealed last week.

She said Merlin was stung - and because of an apparent allergic reaction - collapsed less than a minute later as he was attempting to get to a phone.

When his wife returned home, she found him on the floor - totally incoherent.

Her first instincts were to take him to the hospital herself, she said, but later found out Merlin could have died enroute to the emergency ward if she had attempted that effort.

Instead 9-1-1 was called and Jan revealed the response time was about three minutes.

Romulus Police Officer Michael Grant reportedly was the first to respond to the Lemmon house.

Then following in quick order behind Grant, were two Community Emergency Medical Service paramedics Aaron Colwell and Kim Wilson.

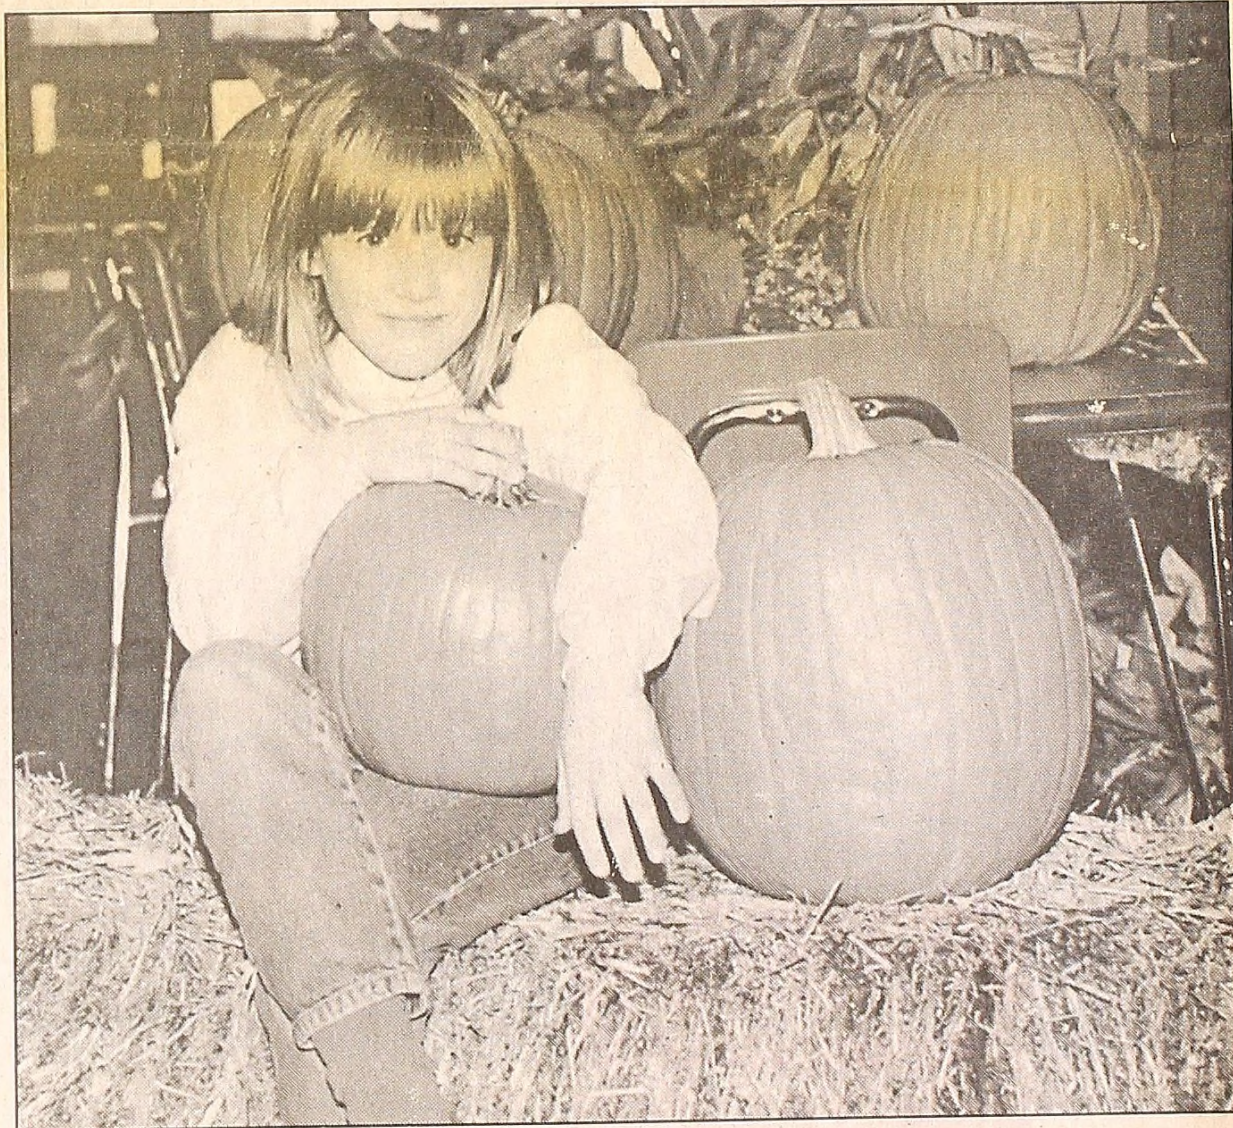

The pair are credited with performing the life-saving procedures, as Romulus Firemen Mark Hammond, Brent Hamilton and Tim Rhoton also responded to the emergency call.

Jan praised the emergency technicians' efforts including moving home furniture, so that her husband could be placed in the ambulance in a quick procedure.

While some area residents may complain about slowness and lack of training of local officers, Jan said "in our case they were superb and deserve recognition for their spontaneous actions."

Jan also extends her thanks to a family friend, Gordon Silvey, who placed cold compresses on Merlin's forehead to keep him alert and for adding moral support to both family members during this medical crisis.

Merlin had been stung before and never suffered such medical woes, Jan said.

Westland Mayor Thomas ignored flooded resident's calls for help

This is to Mayor Thomas. I'm not one of the hate mongers, but I am a little upset with a recent article I read in one of the Westland papers about you not attending council meetings, that people can talk to you in your office.

Well, let me tell you, Mayor Thomas, I did call your office in March with something that I think needed to be discussed with you regarding a city issue that you, as a mayor, should be aware of.

I told your secretary the problem. I said please don't pass it on to the deputy mayor, I would like to speak to the mayor myself.

She said she would give you the message. It's going on six months now, and I'd still like to hear from you. The problem is still an issue.

I still have a problem with sewer water. My basement has flooded 20 times with water from the city's pumping station backing up.

And when I made the DPS aware of it, I was lied to by them, so I called your office to speak to you about the problem. It was passed on to the deputy mayor, who told me that I couldn't speak to you.

When I had a problem with the DPS lying to me, and confronted them with Detroit Edison's statement that there was no power failure at the pumping station, I called to make your office aware of it and was told by your deputy mayor that I could not talk to you, that he would handle it.

He could not handle it. My basement still floods. Now it is a health concern. If you would have maybe took the message and talked to me, I probably would not have contacted the health department and had the investigation done.

Maybe you should straighten out your people, starting with yourself by taking phone calls.

Unfair that park foreman's daughter won Westland's fishing derby

I just wondered why the park foreman's daughter won Westland's fishing derby. Seems a little unfair that the park foreman's daughter would win. My child didn't win. It seemed a setup.

Also, I wondered what's going on with the park. It looks terrible: algae everywhere, branches. It doesn't look good.

Wonder if you can find out something about that.

Now the Mayor thinks a small band of people have ruined the city of Westland. He's right. He joined up with the small band that have ruined the City about five years ago, and the awful mess the city is in is proof.

The recall movement could not have gone on without the poor leadership at the top of the city organization. Take a bow, Mayor, then step down, you have helped ruin what was an improving city five years ago.

Hecklers would not be so depressing with David James's sense of humor

Just because Councilman David James has a good sense of humor does not make him "batty" [as alleged in an Aug. 27 Sound Off

-Ed].

These Monday night hecklers would not be so depressing if they had half Councilman James's sense of humor.

Lighten up, Bad News Bears.

Westland City Council president should treat WW2 vet with respect

I lost all respect for Council President Trav Griffin when I heard him speak to a World War II vet in a disrespectful way during a public meeting. A respectable way would be to say, "Sir, would you please take a seat." Not "Sit down," like you would say to a dog.

News from the City of Wayne

M I C H I G A N C O M M U N I T Y N E W S P A P E R S

Wayne to receive arts, cultural grants $115,000 to help preserve city history

Asked and you will receive. And the city of Wayne asked for and this week learned that it will receive two state grants totaling $115,000 to help preserve the city's history.

Community Development Director Peter McInerney and Gary Clark, Director of the Department of Public Works, informed Mayor Robert J. Dickerson and council members Tuesday night that the grant monies, awarded with no match on the city's part needed, will be used for two projects.

City officials pointed out that the two funded projects include replacing the east, west and north side fence at the historical Michigan Avenue Cemetery at a cost of $40,000, and the replacement of the front fence and gates at the city-owned Glenwood Cemetery at a cost of $75,000.

Clark and McInerney have been working with State Representative Tom Kelly in order to secure the grants from the state.

"We hope to have specifications out to bid in the near future and have the work completed this construction season," Clark noted.

Soap Box Derby winners are announced

On a sunny and warm Saturday, some 37 drivers "started their engines" to compete in the popular Wayne Wheelfest 2000 Soap Box Derby staged recently in conjunction with the Wheelfest.

And the winners, from near and afar, are: Stephanie Chaczyk, a 10-year-old out of Sterling Heights, who turned in the Fastest Time In the Youth Division; and Lisa Silvermail, a 15-year-old from the city of Livonia, who had the Fastest Time, Adult Division.

The finals in the Youth Division, drivers 14 and Under, began at 1:30 p.m. and the fourth-place winner was Brad Bonior, a 10-year-old driver from Garden City; Steve Sherman, who finished third. Sherman is 11-years-old and a resident of Belleville; Second place went to Chaczyk, while Carter Sherman, an eight-year-old from Belleville, won the championship.

There were 31 drivers who competed in the Youth Division.

Over in the Adult Division where only six drivers were brave enough to turn the "key to their ignition" and compete. The top prize went to Scott Hebron, of Westland, who defeated runner-up Cliff Mosier of Wayne for the first-place trophy.

Silvermail crossed the finish line in third place, and a second Wayne driver, Hal Hultman, placed fourth.

Drive-on by

While 37 young drivers were busy competing for trophies in the Wheelfest 2000 Soap Box Derby, others found solace in slot cars which incidentally were as popular as the classics and the derby. The slot cars were part of the festivities, and there were no accidents or damaged vehicles on the track.

A 'friendly' reminder

This is a friendly reminder. Ed McMurray, chairperson of the Friends program, wishes to remind volunteers that on Saturday (Sept. 9), come rain or shine, the group will help paint and make repairs to a senior's house.

The volunteers will meet at the Senior Activity Center at 8 a.m. for a continental breakfast, which will consist of coffee, donuts and bagels.

From the Senior Activity Center, the group of volunteers will leave around 8:45 a.m. to the project site. They will work on the project until 11:45 a.m. when lunch will be served at the project site to the volunteers.

Legal battle looms over Middlebelt Market licenses

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Mayor Hilliard Hampton Jr. and city council members continued to wage a battle and are preparing, if needed, to fight a legal battle against the Michigan Liquor Control Commission and the Commission's approval of a transfer of a liquor license to the new owners of the Middlebelt Market.

The market, located near the Baylor-Woodson Elementary School and just north of Inkster High School, was closed by the LCC for selling liquor to minors in December of 1999.

Prior to the store's closure, the market and its parking lot at 3909 Middlebelt Road, has been the scene of three homicides, numerous armed robberies, drug transactions, assaults, and a place where undesirables found refuge and decent citizens avoided like the plague.

Although the MLCC has reportedly approved the transfer of the liquor license to the new owners, allegedly relatives of the former owners, Mayor Hampton and council members, joined by the Inkster School District, are poised to take legal action to insure the store remains permanently closed.

Councilwoman Wanda Harris Foster, who represents District 1, the district where the store is located, informed council that she has some serious concerns about the store obtaining approval to sell liquor.

Foster questioned City Attorney Milt Spokojny on what recourse the municipality had to negate the action taken by the LCC.

"It appears we have no control over what goes on in our community," Foster said. "What do we do to protest this."

Spokojny admitted that action taken after the fact would be difficult to reverse, but he said a loophole in the transfer of the license may serve as a vehicle to force the LCC to reconsider.

In a proposed resolution drafted by the city attorney and presented to the mayor and council for their consideration Wednesday night, Spokojny pointed out that...since the establishment located at 3909 Middlebelt Road, Inkster, MI has not sold any alcohol since December of 1999 and therefore has lost its non-conforming status," the city may be able to stop the store owner from selling liquor.

Foster also said she was concerned the state did not notify the city about the LCC's approval of the liquor license transfer, and asked the administration and the police chief to seek remedies "so that this doesn't happen again."

"We need a preventive measure put in place to assure us this doesn't happen again," Foster stressed.

The city attorney's resolution did not meet with any opposition Wednesday night, and was expected unanimous approval by council Tuesday. Because of the Labor Day Holiday, council conducted business Tuesday instead of Monday.

Spokojny provided the news media with a copy of the proposed resolution which, in part, reads:

"Whereas, JBDD, Inc. has requested the Michigan Liquor Control Commission to transfer ownership of a SDD and SDM licensed business from KSAQ, located at 3903 Middlebelt...and whereas, the Baylor Woodson School is located less than 100-feet from the licensed business...whereas the Inkster-Edison Public School District has voiced opposition to the requested transfer of ownership of the aforesaid licenses...

"And whereas no Liquor Control Commission records are in existence to verify whether the Inkster Public School District has ever been notified of the original licensing application or whether the Inkster Public School District was ever afforded the opportunity to object to the issuance of the SDD and SDM licenses...

"Whereas, since the establishment located at 3909 Middlebelt has not sold any alcohol since December, 1999 and therefore has lost its non-conforming zoning status and whereas the zoning district for the property located at 3909 Middlebelt Road is a Local Business-1(B-1) and whereas the City of Inkster Zoning Code, the sale of beer, wine and liquor is prohibited in a B-1 Zoning District.

"And, whereas, the Inkster Police Department has investigated numerous violations which have occurred on the premises...including, but not limited to, the sale of liquor to minors, narcotics and drug paraphernalia violations, assaults, robberies and homicides...

Inkster Chamber to hold meeting

All too familiar teen murder a result of family break-up

Murders in small towns are just not supposed to happen. Small towns like Belleville are supposed to be idyllic havens where parents live to shield their children from big city immorality. Small towns are supposed to offer a slower pace of life where children learn religion and hard work are more important than hip-hop and Tommy jeans.

But when 17-year-old Dustin Gordon allegedly shot his 12 year-old stepsister, Crystal on August 15, it sent shock waves reverberating through tiny Belleville. The act may have been shocking but circumstances surrounding the deed were not. We soon learned that the Gordon children were pawns in a family breakup that had been brewing for a couple of years.

Mother, Deborah Gordon had as many as seven criminal warrants pending against her when her husband, John filed for divorce a year ago after 13 years of marriage. A couple of the charges involved domestic violence but then there are more serious offenses like harboring minor children and providing them with alcohol and cigarettes.

John Gordon tells a tale of woe that includes several instances of physical abuse by his wife. One claim has Deborah using a stick and cigarettes to punish John in his sleep while the children were watching. Another says Deborah partied with minors at her home, providing them with marijuana and alcohol.

Much to my chagrin, after 20-some years of reporting, these instances of familial abuse that result in children committing murder are all too familiar.

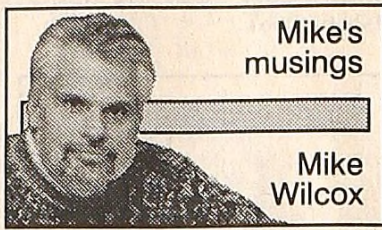

In the late 1970's on my first reporting beat, again in a small south-east Michigan town, more remote and laid back than Belleville, a teenager from one of the town's most distinguished families took an ax to the next door neighbor kid. It was a classic whodunit case until the teen began wielding a golf club at another teen and was busted. It was later learned the ax-wielder had been traumatized by his parent's messy divorce.

A half dozen year's later I was again covering the annual festival and township meetings in a sleepy town north of here where no murders had ever been recorded. A teen took the family shotgun and murdered one by one his brother, sister, mother and father. It was gruesome to say the least. The family was extremely religious and word of the murder shook the very foundation of the Baptist church in which the family played an important role. Later it was learned the teen was rebelling against a physically abusive father that kept mother and children in check with his slaphappy hand.

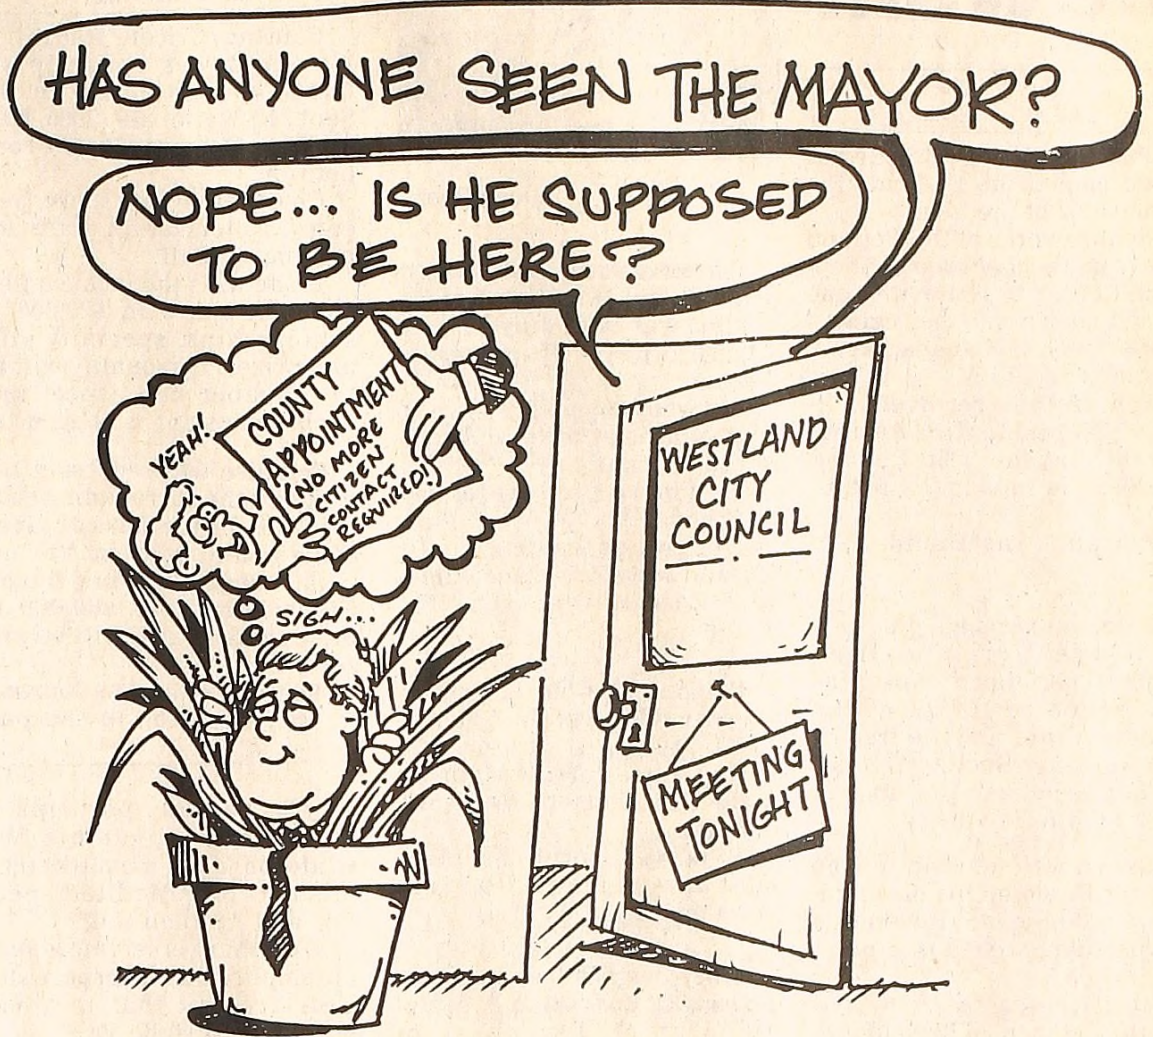

The Gordon case appears to be similar. A family breakup and an abusive mother were too much for the impressionable teen to handle. Facing life in prison if convicted, the teen's life is all but ruined. Still, that is a much better fate than that of the sister he allegedly murdered.

Family breakups happen far too frequently, but when they involve children, extra caution must be taken. Violence should be left on the television screen and children should be monitored for unusual behavior. In all three of these cases, the weapon-wielding teens didn't suddenly go berserk. Their behavior progressively went downhill over a lengthy period. If family members had only recognized the warning symptoms the tragedies might not have happened.

Mike's musings

Mike Wilcox

Spare the rod, spoil the officials

Spare the rod, spoil the child: oh, how true.

But it's even worse with some Westland officials.

Not only is their bratty behavior indulged when their bottoms should be whacked, but they've been utterly spoiled by pensions.

Take the case of Westland City Council President Trav Griffin, who could retire with a $49,000-a-year pension, partially earned and partially bought into it under the Westland's easy terms by paying for a school district pension.

"I earned it," Griffin previously explained. "I did a lot of things to enhance the city. I started 911. . . . I improved the city's aesthetics."

Maybe so, but look how the pension cushion has spoiled him: he's going lawsuit crazy.

In the last month, he's threatened to sue Councilman Glenn Anderson and recall leaders Brenda and Mario Gracin for supposedly defaming his character, and he's sued to throw out the recall against himself and Councilman David Cox on a technicality.

He can afford to throw away thousands of dollars on lawsuits, which Michael Kemnitz, attorney for the Gracins, called "obscenely frivolous" because "Griffin is a public official" who chose to "hold himself up to any public ridicule."

A recent US District

Ivan Helfman

Court decision absolving former presidential advisers James Carville and George Stephanopoulos of defaming Clinton mistress Gennifer Flowers with derogatory statements made on CNN's "Larry King Live" about her morals and integrity. The court dismissed the statements, which were much worse and more widely broadcast than any made against Griffin, as "political hyperbole" made in a political campaign.

For her troubles and $1 million-plus in legal expenses, Flowers only learned a legal lesson: that public figures can be the butt of some pretty nasty jibes.

While most public officials know that, they also know that the legal system can be abused to ensnare opponents in lawsuits for a price, most officials are too thrifty or too decent to litigate political spats.

But when taxpayers pay out $49,000-a-year pensions to an official who worked four full-time years, and he has money to waste on long-shot lawsuits.

With Westland facing a long-term money squeeze and new accounting requirements for employee pension debts, Griffin should be concentrating on balancing future budgets and containing future pension liability.

Instead, like a kid spoiled by too much easy money, he concentrates on suing his opponents, not earning his money, not attending some recent meetings.

But the king of pension-spoiled politicians is Westland Mayor Bob Thomas, a stranger to city council meetings.

Buoyed by a $60,000-plus future yearly pension, he tried to jump ship to the Wayne County Commission in August, where he could have collected his pension plus a $58,000 salary for a goldbrick job if voters' revulsion hadn't thwarted him.

When citizens question the liberality of official's pensions, politicians say that the big payouts are needed to obtain the best help.

But the best help never comes. Instead, the old help gets richer, sometimes too rich to pay attention to their jobs. In the case of Thomas, rich enough to seek greener pastures. In the case of Griffin, rich enough to go lawsuit crazy.

In the case former City Clerk Diane Fritz, who draws a city pension and clerk consulting fee: don't get me started.

School competition is a plus

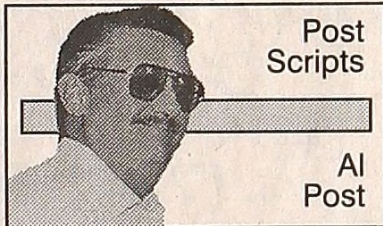

While school competition may be lampooned by some in educational circles, such challenges are showing some positive results.

Most of the lampooning comes from veteran educators in the public school systems eager to hold on to state allotments per student.

Parents -- wary of media reports on state and national educational levels and optional school cycles -- have been studying home schooling and the growing charter school options in recent years.

Home schooling parents have taken the biggest verbal hits in the past decade -- but they have had two big public relations successes in the past year.

First came the report that home schoolers led some recent reading score tests and the second "educational touchdown" was scored when it was revealed certain colleges are now seeking out top home schoolers for their class-

Post Scripts

The second area of concern for public schools -- particularly in Michigan -- is the growing number of charter schools.

They too have been mocked by some educators as "inadequate" in today's complex school and job society -- since charter schools come up short in the eyes of some because they don't offer a full variety of educational courses or top inter-school sports competitions such as football, baseball, etc.

While local charter school leaders state they are not trying to be all things to all people, they state they are stressing safety, strong discipline and an emphasis on character building.

Meanwhile Christian activists complain there is a lack of integrity issues now stressed on a student level in public schools as well as in state supported colleges and universities.

Thus it was promising last month when new Romulus Board of Education President Michael Woods stated his district was seriously working on adding new character training elements to its curriculum.

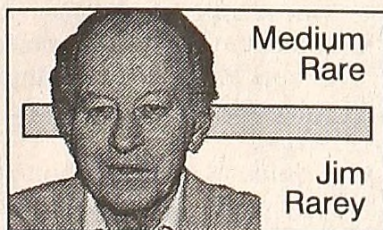

Thus since many public school districts in the past century worked as educational monopolies in their communities -- it will be interesting to watch how this new competition works out in parents and students favor.

Hopefully this growing competition could force all segments of today's school world to improve their educational products.

Courageous act stands out in Dearborn

Amid allegations of racial profiling, sexual harassment, test rigging and suppression of investigations in the Dearborn Police Department, one shining example of courage and honesty stands out like a candle in the darkness.

Articles in both the Detroit News and Detroit Free Press detail how Sgt. Glenn Harper lodged a complaint when he discovered four incorrect answers he had given on the department's promotional test had been changed to correct answers giving him a higher grade. That's right, he complained about being given an unearned advantage.

Medium Rare

Jim Rarey

In doing so, Harper may have jeopardized any chance he may have for future promotion. When no action had been taken after eight months, he followed up and forced the department to start an investigation, something the Police Chief was obviously reluctant to do.

However, the intent may not have been to help Harper but to push Sgt. Karen Ehlert further down the promotion list. Ehlert, who has filed a sexual harassment suit against the department, had scored in third place before the test changes pushed her down to fourth.

Another female sergeant, who had scored second, received a promotion to lieutenant. It was later revealed that she is being investigated for suppressing ("ignoring") nearly two hundred criminal investigations during her five year stint in the detective bureau.

More questions have been raised than answered in the incidents. Were the "ignored" criminal investigations merely the random result of one person's slothfulness or incompetence or is there a pattern of not investigating certain crimes and/or persons? Was Sgt. Harper's test the only one that was changed? Why the eight month delay in investigating Harper's complaint. Are any higher ups in the department involved?

One thing Chief Deziel vows he will discover and punish is the person that leaked the information to the public about the suppressed investigations. Shades of Richard Nixon and the plumbers!

New blood needed on Westland Council

To the editor:
After the last Westland City Council meeting, I felt compelled to write this letter. This is regarding the accusations by Mr. Griffin that Mrs. Hessler-Davis is motivated by a personal vendetta against the City of Westland. At one time Mrs. Hessler-Davis and I were friends. We have since lost touch and I haven't really spoken to her in almost seven years. I want the citizens of Westland to know that eight years ago, Mrs. Hessler-Davis and I attended many city council meetings. She is now asking the very questions we wanted to ask then but were too intimidated to ask. We were both shocked when we looked at a voucher list. In my opinion, the accusations hurled at her during the meeting were a tactic to discredit her and the cause she stands for. I am glad to see that she has the courage to stand up and ask questions and I too would like to hear the answers. I feel so strongly about the recall, and so angry at the harassment of the recall supporters, that I addressed the city council a few weeks ago. That was the very first time in my entire life that I have ever addressed a group due to a phobia. But my fear was not as strong as my feelings about the injustice served upon a group of citizens exercising their Constitutional rights, and especially the personal attacks against the Gracins. When the Gracins stated that they are being harassed, that was absolutely no exaggeration. The yellow card that I received in the mail that prompted me to address the council with my autistic son in tow, is just one more thing, along with a whole list of others. The very idea that in the year 2000 common citizens would be treated in such a fashion appalls me, and it should appall every citizen in this city. This issue is deeper than whether or not the people of this city support the recall of sitting council members. Regardless of which side of the recall fence any citizen is on, all citizens should and must support the right to recall when a group of citizens feel that the elected official or officials are not acting in their best interest without the fear of harassment, as it has been visited upon the Gracins. When any city official degrades the recall movement, they also degrade every citizen that signs those petitions. I, for one, am very highly insulted. We as taxpayers should not have to demand accountability, we should be given it. We should not be degraded, condescended to, personally attacked, laughed at, shouted at, given half answers, discredited, persecuted, prosecuted, or be intimidated when we ask for accountability. We should not have to ask the same questions twice. It is not the place of our elected officials or city administration to determine whether or not the answer given is "good enough". Any citizen that takes the time to ask is entitled to an answer. Any citizen who feels that the answer given is not complete is entitled to an explanation. It disgusts me as a citizen of the United States of America to see fellow citizens being harassed because they are exercising their Constitutional rights, and I will stand behind them to see that they prevail. It is my right, my responsibility, and my duty. Government of the people, for the people, and by the people is what this country was founded on specifically to protect the rights of individuals and their freedom. Every citizen should and must protect, defend, and uphold these rights. If you don't use it, you could lose it. The tactics of those who want to keep things "business as usual" will not fool me, for one, nor will those that use bully tactics to discredit the recall or any citizen demanding accountability. Of course those who use those tactics have something to fight for. Who wouldn't want to protect the ability for a nice fat pension, or a nice new vehicle, or salaries that are twice what I, as a blue-collar worker, make. Even if I did not support the recall effort, which I do, I would defend to the death the right to do so. Maybe if more people asked questions, city employees would not feel free to use a city vehicle with other city workers, on city time, to go gambling. Perhaps if there were odometer records somebody would have noticed that certain city vehicles were racking up miles and using more fuel than what would be considered normal. It is almost unbelievable what is going on in this city, it's like a badly scripted soap opera, or an episode of "The Dukes of Hazzard". I will not elaborate who would play what character. We need new blood in our city administration and elected government. Too much "inbreeding" makes for poor quality in animals and Civil Service. We also must be prepared to "put out to pasture" horses that have been running for too long. Fresh horses, like fresh ideas, can get the heart of this city healthy again and headed for a bright future. We are the city, and we will be here long after the politicians have served their terms. As long as citizens care, our futures and the future of this city will be bright.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Susan M. Barton

County commissioner primary candidates became friends

To the editor:
This letter is in response to a letter to the editor by Fred Bolden printed in a recent publication. My victory in the August 8, 2000 Republican Primary Election for District 11 Wayne County Commission was a direct result of countless hours, donated by volunteers, who had a mission to send the more capable candidate to face our ineffective first term incumbent in November. Fred Bolden eloquently illustrated the various differences between us in his letter and even thanked me for running a fair and utmost respectable race. Mr. Bolden and I have established a friendship as a result of being "on the campaign trail" together and have pledged to work together for the November election. It's easy to criticize your opponent in an effort to downplay their qualifications or personal integrity. Fred Bolden, like myself, is a man of principle, and a good family and community minded person. We have the same ideals for our fellow residents and similar ideas on reforming Wayne County government. My background as a CPA small business owner and former auditor of the City of Detroit has given me the tools and talents necessary to bring more "Accountable" government to the taxpaying families of Wayne County. I congratulate Fred on his strong bid for government leadership and welcome him to the Republican (Fred ran for the Commission seat as a Democrat in 1998) philosophy of lower taxes, less government waste and more personal freedom to the hard working, taxpaying families of Wayne County. Sincerely,

Rob Bovitz, CPA
Wayne County Commissioner Candidate

Unforgettable

Can Glenn shake off last year's nightmarish loss to Salem?

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

For both Westland John Glenn and Plymouth-Salem varsity teams, it was a game that each will not soon forget.

Glenn had Coach Tom Moshimer's Rocks under its collective feet a year ago, ready to rub out of their path to the playoffs, when, suddenly, Salem exploded from a 17-14 deficit and scored 25 unanswered points in the final quarter to claim a 39-17 Western Lakes, Lakes Division victory over coach Chuck Gordon's Rockets.

The 25-points stand as the most points a team had scored on a Glenn team in one quarter.

Do you think Glenn has forgotten that nightmarish loss of a year ago?

The question was asked of Moshimer, during a telephone interview Monday night. Moshimer's Rocks will entertain Glenn Friday night in their second Lakes Division encounter of the young campaign.

Kickoff is scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

"No," replied Moshimer.

"They haven't forgotten it over there. But, neither have we. We know we will have to play a lot better than we did against Western to beat Glenn."

A week ago, Walled Lake Western exploited Salem's inability to defend the pass, and the defending conference and Division I state champs breezed to a 28-7 victory.

"It wasn't our secondary or our linebackers who were at fault," explained Moshimer, after the opening night conference setback, "there was a total breakdown in our pass defense. A reverse of a week ago.

"We out-rushed them 170-150 yards, but they picked up 200 yards in the air on a 10 of 18 completion effort. That did it to us"

Does the veteran Salem coach believe that Glenn will attempt to exploit the Rocks' aerial weaknesses?

"I would think so. They've exchanged (game) films so they know our strengths and weaknesses. We just have to shore up of defense, or it will be another long night.

"Remember, we are playing John Glenn," Moshimer continued. "They are always a well-coached team, disciplined, and they always come to play."

Something Salem apparently was not really to do against a Western team, which was coming off of an opening-season loss to the No. 1 ranked team in the state, Birmingham Brother Rice.

Salem's only score against the champs came midway in the second quarter when running back Brandon Ellison broke loose on a counter play and raced 82 yards for a second quarter touchdown. Jim

March contributed the extra point.

Western had a 14-7 lead at the half, then added single TDs in each of the last two quarters. Walled Lake's senior quarterback Ryan Ziem found the weaknesses in the Salem aerial defenses and completed three touchdown passes, all three to receiver Brian Tominna, who made catches of 20, 28 and 35 yards.

The loss was the first for the Rocks, but it may serve as a

Churchill provides Rockets a boost

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

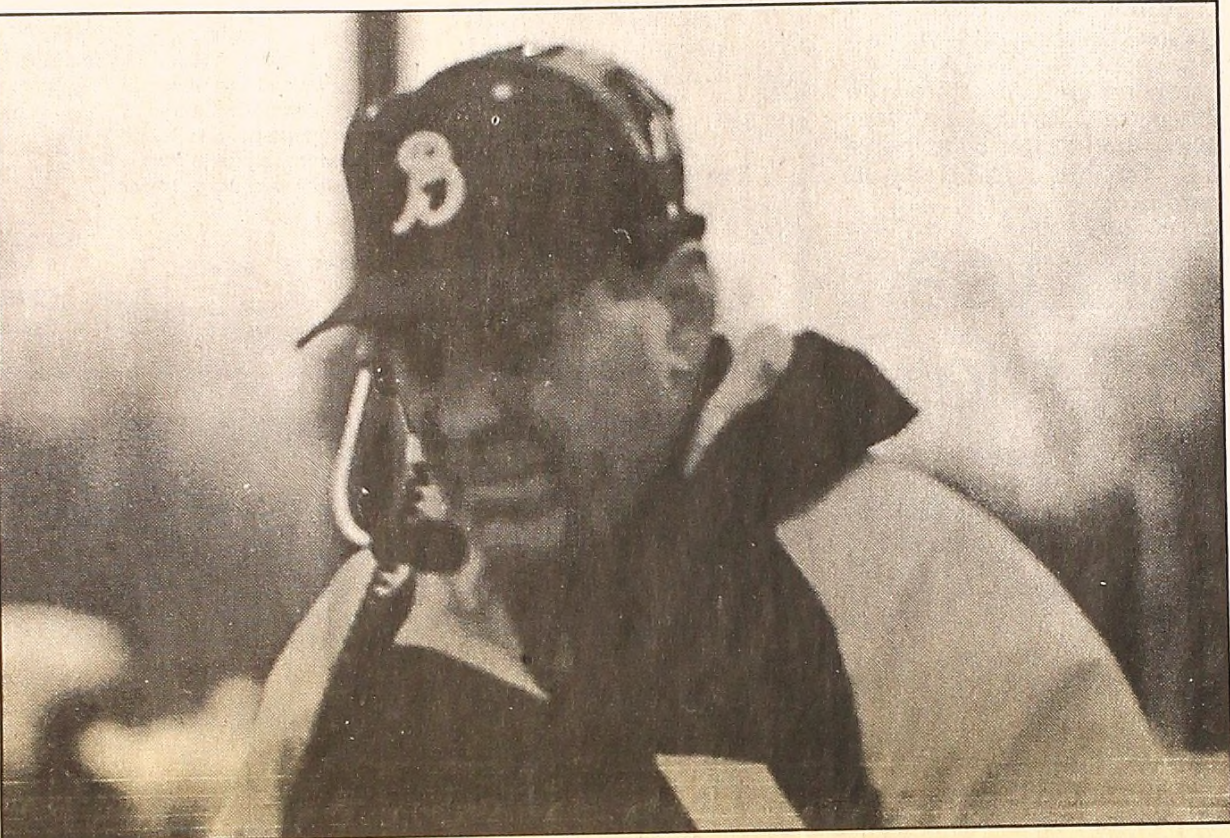

After an ego-shattering, opening-season loss to Detroit Kettering, Livonia Churchill apparently was just what Westland John Glenn needed to give it a psychological football boost.

Behind a sterling overall performance by Dan Smitherman, who scored three of the Rockets' four touchdowns, and playing their traditionally tough defense, Glenn shut out a highly-touted Livonia Churchill 28-0 Friday before a Glenn Parents' Night crowd.

The game was the Western Lakes Conference opener for both teams.

Glenn and coach Chuck Gordon needed a victory and they got it at the expense of Churchill as they prepare to travel to Plymouth-Salem for a showdown of traditional Lakes Division powers.

Salem fell to Walled Lake Western Friday night (Read related story on this page). Both

Bob LaPointe

Salem and Glenn have identical 1-1 records as they enter Week No. 3 of the 2000 campaign.

Glenn struck first against Churchill as Smitherman capped a 68-yard drive engineered by quarterback Brian Ceckiewicz with a 19-yard, off tackle TD run.

Then, Andrew Peiffer kicked what would be his first of four successful point-after.

With 3:59 left in the opening quarter, the Rockets made it a 14-0 game as Ceckiewicz combined with receiver Kavon Latimer on a 14-yard touchdown pass which finished off a 46-yard drive set up by Aaron Copeland's fumble recovery.

Midway in the second quarter, Ceckiewicz managed to put together another long drive, this one covering 54-yards that ended when Smitherman plowed through the middle of the line and scored from five-yards out.

Glenn marched into the locker room with a 21-0 lead that the defense managed to protect the rest of the evening.

When the Rockets came back in the third quarter, it

Tigers are sitting atop of Mega Red

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Belleville coach Bob LaPointe and the Tigers are sitting pretty, atop of the Mega Conference, Red Division world and ranked No. 6 in the state in the latest Division I state polls.

And with an unimpressive, winless, listless Redford Union (0-2) coming to town Friday night, Belleville should have no problems picking up their third straight victory of the young season.

Hold on there, says LaPointe. Not, so fast. Two victories doesn't make a season. In fact, "this team is young and inexperienced and we didn't look that impressive against Dearborn."

LaPointe points to the first half against Dearborn to make his point.

"We didn't look like a sixth-ranked team. In fact, we looked as if we didn't know what end was up."

Down by seven early in the game against Dearborn, Belleville rallied to a 25-7 Mega Red victory over the Pioneers thanks to the performance of quarterback Jason Szmansky who managed to regain his poise and pass for two touchdowns.

And a defense that made the necessary adjustments.

The Pioneers drew first blood when running back Will Warren broke loose on the option and scored from eight yards out.

It was the option that caused Belleville most of its problems early against the Pioneers.

"They (Dearborn) executed the option perfectly," said LaPointe. "We had to make some adjustments to stop them. They are an excellent team and are going to win their share of ball games."

Belleville's defense, spearheaded by outside linebackers Michael Hall and Adrian Jordan and defensive tackles Shaun Simola and Jason Johnson, both outstanding wrestlers, managed to key in on the Pioneer backfield and neutralize their ground game. End Pete Belyk and middle linebacker Jacob Wilkerson also stood out in the second half.

"After they (Dearborn) scored in their first drive, we managed to make the necessary adjustments," LaPointe added.

A safety and Joe Orskey's 28-yard field goal accounted for Belleville's first five points.

Then just before the half ended, Szmansky found split end Kris Miller open, and they teamed up on a 55-yard touchdown pass-run play.

With 3:32 left in the third quarter, Szmansky came back with a similar play, but this time with Kyle Myers at the receiving end of a 57-yard TD pass.

Orskey kicked both point-after.

Szmansky settled for 113 yards on two of five pass completions which included those two big pass plays. Wilkerson rushed for 57 yards on 15 attempts, while Jarvis Mosley picked up 52 yards on seven rushes and Myers wound up with 41 yards on eight carries.

What does LaPointe have to say about Redford Union?

"Well, they are strong and physical, but have a lot of young players this year."

Now that's more like it! Inkster rips Melvindale, 35-15

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

A year ago, Inkster managed to come up with a winning football team and the Vikings made their inaugural appearance in the state playoffs.

A week ago, with most of the lineup back, coach Mark Townsend's Vikings were embarrassed by an unheralded Detroit Crockett team, 29-12.

But, Friday, before a home crowd Inkster showed that it still has enough holdover talent to win. The Vikings knocked off Melvindale, 35-15, in their Mega Conference, Gold Division opener.

"After we overcame our early mistakes, we played well," said Townsend later. "We had some problems getting started, but settled down, especially in the second half."

"It was a good victory for us. In order to continue to win, we must improve."

For their second Mega Conference test, Inkster will run up against Willow Run at 7 p.m. Friday at Willow Run. The Flyers are coming off of an impressive victory over Robichaud in their divisional opener.

Townsend said that the Willow Run game is a crucial one for his Vikings.

"It seems that we have this new rivalry against them," the Inkster coach noted. "It's not like the rivalry we have with Robichaud, but you can sense it when our kids play Willow Run."

Townsend used adjectives such as physical and aggressive to describe this year's Flyers.

"And, yes, they have a backfield that we respect."

Inkster trailed 15-14 at the half against Melvindale, then came back, thanks to their defense, especially defensive tackle Adrian Matthews and Michael Turner, who led a shut out of the Cardinals in the second half.

While the defense was busy cutting down Melvindale ball-carriers, Inkster quarterback Michael Hunter collected his poise and managed to come up with 21 unanswered points in the final two quarters.

Scoreless the first quarter,

Romulus crushes Taylor Kennedy for victory No. 2

Cook says Southgate is tough

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Romulus again unleashed its awesome scoring power against a helpless Taylor Kennedy and rolled to a 50-0 first half advantage before crushing their Mega Conference opponent, 54-6, in the conference opener.

Coach Wade Cook's Eagles have now rolled up a total of 94-points in their first two victories. The first-year Romulus coach pulled his first string out in the second half against Kennedy Friday night.

Cook doesn't expect it to be easy Friday night when his team meets Southgate Anderson. Although, coming off of a 28-13 loss to Trenton in their conference crossover, and winless in their first two starts, is a talented team, Cook said.

"And we have history with this team," Cook explained. "When we play each other, the kids seem to step up their efforts a notch or two.

"I'm looking for a close, physical game."

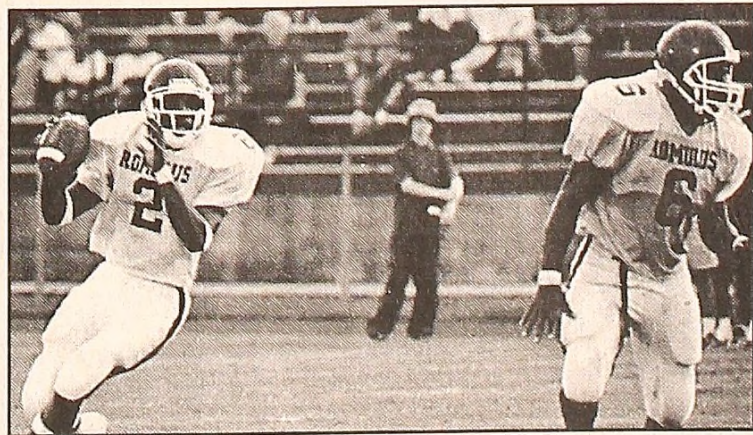

Southgate Anderson will host the 7:30 p.m. Mega Blue Division game.

Scoring 27 points in the first quarter alone against Kennedy, Romulus didn't even work up a sweat as junior running back Charles Searcy continued his scoring rampage. Searcy tallied on an eight-yard sprint to cap a midfield, 46-yard drive to open up the scoring. Playing only the first half, Searcy still managed to amass 129 yards on 11 carries. The junior running Romulus senior quarterback Daniel Jarrett again was not tested. Jarrett crossed the Kennedy goal line twice on runs of 46 and 35 yards, and he also figured in two other scores as he combined with split end Michael Woods on a pair of touchdown passes, the first going for 46-yards; the second covered 44.

Chris Talley chipped in a Romulus touchdown. He returned a punt 53-yards into the Kennedy end zone in the second quarter with 10:53 on the clock. Sophomore running back Chris Middlebrooks also cashed in on a 6-yard run for the final Eagle TD.

Steve Moore converted six of the eight Romulus point-after.

Cook commended junior Anson Long's performance on defense. Anson, a free safety, and a cousin of Romulus High basketball legend, Johnny Long, picked off one Kennedy pass. He also came up with two solo tackles.

"Our entire defense played well," Cook said. "We managed to get everyone in after the opening half."

Kennedy averted the shutout with a fourth-quarter touchdown, late in the game.

Westland John Glenn wide receiver Andy Peiffer makes his move to elude an on-rushing Livonia Churchill defender Friday night in the Western Lakes Conference opener for both teams. Smitherman's 11-yard touchdown run culminated the drive.

The senior running back finished the game with three TDs, 110-yards rushing on 16 attempts. Fullback Tony Davis finished with 37 yards on 12 rushes.

Ceckiewicz went to the air against the Chargers 16 times and completed eight passes for 123 yards.

Glenn's defense, led by Derek Dodd, Mark Wacker, Craig Lewis, and Dave Mijal held Churchill to a total of 57 yards rushing.

Dodd also managed to intercept one pass, while Wacker chipped in with a pair of sacks of the quarterback.

booting the extra point.

Gray, a senior tailback, compiled 205 yards and scored two TDs in 14 attempts, while Hunter completed four of eight passes for 65 yards.

Matthews had a superb game on defense as he racked up a total of 20 tackles and recovered one fumble; Turner, a freshman nose guard, accounted for 12 tackles and two sacks and also had a fumble recovery.

Melvindale got on the scoreboard first, but Inkster's Ronald Perry came back with a 95-yard kickoff return to make it a 7-6 ball game. The Cardinals went up 15-6 when Michael Gray scored with two minutes left on a perfectly-executed option that wound up as an 89-yard TD run.

Hunter then slipped off tackle for the two point conversion.

When the two teams broke for the intermission, Inkster was down 15-14.

Joe Clayborne scored on a pass from Hunter which gave Inkster a commanding 28-15 lead.

The Vikings quickly made up the difference when Ronald Perry dashed 45 yards, off tackle, in their first series of plays of the third quarter to give his team the lead for good.

Perry wound up with 119-yard rushing and two touchdowns on 12 attempts.

Michael Turner recovered a Melvindale fumble at midfield which set up Inkster's next score. Gray came back with another dazzling run, this one covering 45 yards for the insurance TD.

Joe Clayborne scored on a pass from Hunter which gave Inkster a commanding 28-15 lead.

Robert Scott's eight-yard TD run in the fourth quarter gave the Vikings' the frosting on their victory cake. Scott's score came in the wake of a 75-yard drive and ended with gray

Wayne-Ford Wolves end year with Woodin tournament title

The Wayne-Ford baseball club brought the curtains down on the 2000 season by winning the Woodin Wallen Invitational Tournament title.

Manager Bill Hardin's team won the classic after turning back an elite group of contenders representing the states of Indiana, Ohio and Michigan.

The Wolves opened the series against Lakeshore, Indiana and quickly grabbed a 3-0 lead in the first inning as Alex Coward, Anthony Savone, Mike Broughton all came through with hits.

Pitcher Chris Holcomb scattered two hits to chalk up the victory. Coward, and Byron Glenn also saw action on the mound that helped close the door on the Rangers.

On Saturday, with rain pouring, the Wolves managed to sneak in a 13-0 victory over Indiana as James Terry and Savone combined on a no-hitter.

While Terry and Savone were busy erasing Indiana batters from the plate, J.J. Pierce and Broughton were wielding bats that produced for the champs the necessary runs to put the victory on ice.

Glenn scored three runs and Terry and Savone notched a total of 12 strikeouts. Only three Indiana batters escaped the wrath of the Wolves' pitchers.

In the semifinals, it came down to a game against Strongsville, Ohio, a team that matched Wayne is almost every category. But the Wolves managed to pull out a 9-8 victory as Savone drilled his second homer of the weekend to secure the victory. Teammate Terry also went deep.

Wayne received sterling performances from Holcomb and Will Lewis who belted crucial run-scoring hits.

The championship game pitted Wayne against Wallen's Indians who were enjoying a successful season.

Canton to hold PP&Kick contest

Canton's Parks and Recreation officials this week have set the dates for the popular Punt, Pass and Kick competitions.

The contest, a qualifying round for the regional and national contests, will be held locally beginning at 10 a.m. on Sat., Sept. 23 at the Griffin Community Park, Sheldon Road, and is open to both boys and girls, ages 8-9; 10-11, 12-13 and 14-15.

The top finisher in each of the age group brackets advance to the next level of competition, and the top two places in each group receive awards.

Contest officials stressed that no cleats of any kind may be used in the competition. Only gym shoes are permitted.

There is no residency required to compete in the contest, but a copy of the competitor's birth certificate is required to be shown at the time of registering.

WSGL golf members improve scores

As the Women's Suburban Golf Association slowly winds down, some of the members are reaching their peaks.

Birmingham's Pat Meyers shot a 67, three strokes better than Livonia's Ginny Karolak and Jo Ann McVicar to card the Low Net in the WSGA's First Flight competition.

In the meantime, Benninger, out of Westland, had an 80 to finish atop of the Low Gross competitors in that flight. Four strokes back was Wayne's Theresa Deisler.

Gwen Wyer toured Warren Valley with an 96 to turn in the best score in the Second Flight, Low Gross competition.

Wayne running back Clifford Edwards (12) has the blocking and the room for an eight yard pickup on the play pictured above, but the Zebras have had more than their share of problems generating yardage and putting points on the scoreboard this season. Their entire output for eight quarters is one touchdown. Coach Floyd Carter's Zebras are looking to break their two-game losing streak Friday night before the home crowd at the expense of Monroe (1-1) who will be in town. Photo by Carl Brown

When it rains it pours on Wayne High's grid team

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

It won't get any easier for coach Floyd Carter and the Wayne Memorial Zebras who will make that leap from the proverbial frying pan into the fire Friday night.

Next up for Carter and the Zebras is Monroe (1-1), a Mega Conference, Red Division opponent which is coming off of an impressive win over Lincoln Park and who looked good in their opening-season loss to a highly-touted Saginaw team.

"Monroe lost its opener to Saginaw, a team that is ranked in the state," said Carter, after the Zebras lost a 26-7 Mega Red Division at Dearborn Fordson. "Although we improved last week and played much better than we did against Romulus, we need to eliminate our mistakes."

"We paid for those dearly against Fordson."

Wayne will be at home to Monroe in a game scheduled for 7 p.m. Friday.

Wayne quarterback Matt Patterson, thanks to the Zebras' passing game, managed to move the ball against Fordson, something the Zebras failed to do against Romulus.

Patterson mixed his passes between Darian Mitchell,

Clifton Edwards and James McCloud but when Wayne maneuvered into scoring position, the Zebras usually gave up the ball on a turnover.

In the meantime, the Wayne defense had its hands full trying to stop Fordson senior Mike Hammoud, who the Tractors used as their main thrust. Hammoud scored two of Fordson's four TDs on runs of 17 and 40 yards. He finished the game with 138 yards on 15 attempts.

Fordson also got a touchdown from Hafidh Alfakih, who went over the Wayne goal line from 25 yards out. The TD capped a midfield drive.
